

RUG SIZE GUIDE

Tips on placing your Ethnicraft kilim rug

A home should be furnished with items that you love, bringing a sense of warmth and cosiness that make you feel good. While we don't believe in strict styling rules, there are some tips we can offer to assist in laying our kilim rugs and discovering the best arrangement in a variety of rooms.

The importance of composition

Our rugs are made using 100% sheep wool. The beauty of wool is its high oil content, providing a yarn that is naturally resistant to both dirt and moisture. The kilim weaving technique also offers an incredibly durable finish. These characteristics, paired with the unique texture as the result of their hand woven nature, mean that Ethnicraft kilim rugs compliment a range of spaces.

Size & placement considerations

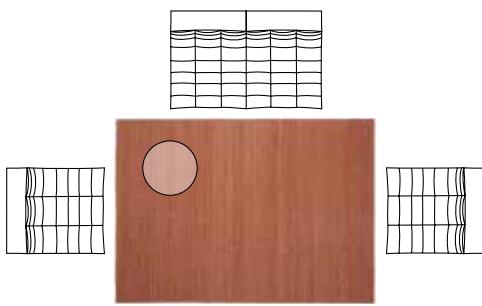

Depending on the context of the room, a rug needs to meet slightly different requirements. In order to define the space, we recommend considering the floor area alongside main pieces of furniture, such as your sofa, table or bed.

LIVING ROOM

Larger rugs are usually the preferred option in a living room. Clearly defining your lounge area enhances your coffee and side table configurations alongside your seating.

Our tip: To create a sense of proportion and visually connect furniture items together, we recommend a rug that extends at least to the front legs of your sofa and chairs. You can also choose to place your rug in the centre, leaving an even space between the rug's edge and the surrounding furniture.

BEDROOM

A rug can perfectly create a sense of comfort in your bedroom. Imagine the warm touch of wool underfoot when waking up in the morning... You can also combine your rug with a bench to underline the end of the bed and leave your clothes or any extra throw cushions on in the evening.

Our tip: Offset your rug at the foot of the bed for a more cosy and inviting feel. For a balanced visual effect, make sure the rug extends beyond the sides of the bed.

DINING ROOM & KITCHEN

A dining room is a convivial space bringing friends and family together. A rug under the dining table will accentuate the sense of togetherness and define the dining area.

Our tip: When you host dinners or have multiple guests seated at one time, a rug is a great way to improve the acoustics of the room. To make sure you can still easily manoeuvre dining chairs, the rug should be slightly larger than the dining table on each side, by approximately 1m/3.2ft.

WORK SPACES

In any office space, whether that be within your home, in an open workspace, or in a meeting room, a rug will bring a delicate sense of comfort and calm to favour focus.

Our tip: Meeting rooms can benefit from the acoustic properties of a rug. In a co-work or open space, the rug will also frame areas in a subtle way.
